Dear Jean Paul,

We are pleased to invite you to sponsor and participate in the 4th Summit for Civil Rights, September 28 and 29, 2023 at Cleveland State University in Cleveland, Ohio. It will be presented jointly by Building One America, The University of Minnesota Law School, and Cleveland State University.

Fred Redmond, Secretary Treasurer of the AFL-CIO and the first African American labor leader to ascend to this powerful post, will receive the James Clyburn “Vaults of Opportunity” Award. United States Congressmen Brian Fitzpatrick and Donald Norcross are this year's recipient of the of the Steven C. LaTourette Unified America Award for their role in resurrecting the Bipartisan Building Trades Caucus in the United States Congress. The LaTourette Award was named for its first recipient, the late Congressman Steve LaTourette, because of his extraordinary work in building bipartisan support for federal programs and investments to expand inclusive opportunity and prosperity for all Americans.

Former Congresswoman Brenda Lawrence will receive the 2023 Shirley Chisholm Breakthrough Leader Award for her inspiring and trail-blazing career in public service. We will also pay tribute to the late William (Bill) Spriggs and John H. Bracey Jr., two heroic and brilliant scholars who were members of our Summit for Civil Rights team.

Since 2017, the Summit for Civil Rights has convened multi-racial, non-partisan gatherings of some of the nation's top civil rights leaders in the field of organizing, labor, faith, academia, law, and elected office to respond to the powerful and dangerous intersection of enduring racial disparities, widening economic inequality, and rising political polarization throughout our society. As the country prepares for another tumultuous election year, this year's Summit, whose theme is reclaiming populism, will continue the work of building multi-racial power behind a unifying agenda of racial justice and economic opportunity for all Americans.

The Summit will start 1:00 PM, Thursday, September 28, and end at 4:00 PM Friday, September 29. We look forward to discussing with you your participation and support for this year's Summit for Civil Rights. You can go here to register and sponsor or for more information about sponsorship levels and packages.

Sincerely,
