CELEBRATING AND RESTORING THE HISTORIC AND POWERFUL ALLIANCE OF LABOR AND CIVIL RIGHTS FOR RACIAL JUSTICE AND ECONOMIC OPPORTUNITY

Featured Speakers

Purpose of the Forum

With growing frustration over rising income inequality and mounting anger around racial injustice, the pivotal role of unions and civil rights needs to be reexamined for its historic significance and relevance to the critical challenges facing working people today.

This non-partisan forum will educate members, allies, and the public about the mutually reinforcing power relationship that once existed between labor and civil rights and how this alliance produced some of the most progressive policies and most inclusive expansion of middle class jobs that our nation had ever experienced.

It will show the importance of this coalition for today's serious challenges, and it will call upon our congregations, unions, civic and civil rights groups to work together to restore and revive this alliance to advance and promote both racial justice and economic opportunity for all American workers, their families and communities.
